presidential manifesto

Hwæt! We be running for president(s)! Lend us your ears and eyes!

The ASNaC society is vital in creating a close and vibrant community. As the smallest course in Cambridge, we believe that inclusiveness is the most important policy for the committee to promote. This is especially necessary as many of us are the only student in our year (or college!) studying ASNaC.

We will therefore aim for continuity (thanks to Tom and Sam –you were cracking!) with an increased emphasis on creating an accessible, approachable and inclusive society.

FROM RUBY

Good morrow! I would be honoured to be elected as one half of the presidency, as I have always felt at home in the department and believe I have the dedication and motivation to maintain the close-knit, welcoming community that is the ASNaC Society.

FROM COREY

Greetings! I've really enjoyed serving on the committee this year as Archiepiscopus and would love to come back next term as co-president! I've personally benefited from all the things the society do for us, the support network, the regular events etc., and would really like to give something back.

ASNaC TRIP

The North!

Come to the AGM on Tuesday 24th to hear the full itinerary and prices –but here are some juicy morsels to whet your appetites:

York

- Jorvik Viking Centre
- Yorkminster
- York walls

Northumbria

- Bede's World
- St Paul's Church (Bede's monastery!)
- Lindisfarne

guest speaker

As we've planned a Germanic-based trip, and both the guest-speakers this year and last year were Norse-related, we'd like to invite a speaker from the Gaelic/Brittonic realm.

Obviously we haven't contacted anyone yet, because that would be weird given that we're not actually presidents.

But a few ideas are:

- Dauvit Broun
- Donnchadh O'Corráin
- Alex Woolf
- James Fraser

other policies

ASNaC Family Scheme

- Promote inclusivity by pairing any incoming Freshers without an ASNaC college parent with an ASNaC in second year. Everyone should have someone!

Weekly Presidential Bulletin

- Make sure everyone is updated with events and news in the department. This will include:
- ASNaC Lunch Info
- Pub Reminder
- Important Dates
- Upcoming events that may be of interest
- Messages from Yule Play/Gesta Officers etc.

make sure the old ways endure

Pub, lunch, garden party, ASNaC Quire, Black Tie Dinner, Yule Play, Gesta, summer picnic, Halloween pub crawl—you name it, it'll continue!
